

ONLINE VIDEO PRODUCTION

Blaze Communications & Consulting

Web video captures attention and presents to website visitors your company's key products and services in seconds!

Industry trends and internet use clearly indicate that online video is an effective marketing tool, offering greater ROI than websites without video. Well-researched experts predict online video is growing three times faster than Rich Media, receiving sixty cents of every video-rich media dollar by 2013. The challenge to most local businesses wanting to take advantage of this new marketing trend is lack of skills or tools in shooting, editing and optimizing video for web use.

BlazeCom helps companies have the power of video working to engage site visitors. We can help you with scripting, recording, editing, special effects and web optimization for highlighting your business or organization. Just call Blake @ 317-708-4627 or email: Blake@BlazeCom.info to learn more!
